

Genelec & Memphis Reigns – Sakura

Sakura Lyrics

[Verse 1: Genelec]

Yo, check it
Yo, it's G, M-A-J-O-R
Relax on my back taking in the stars
I throw my rhyme to the wind
Let the element send my energy to the planets
See if ancestors understand it
Transmit and respawn quick
Will leave me thick in a question, so many questions
Puzzled, sift through the rubble
Search for my life so elusive
Dream every night but the dream's inconclusive
Relay my thoughts in rhyme, thirty three lines in one page
No, not a sun ray, more like a thunderhead
Curse those who weave my afflictions, this man included
Step out the box and get booted
Temporary, hit the bottle
Temporary, hit the throttle
Temporary, my motherfucking male model for existence
Exist in a chrysalis state until I'm liquid, broken down chemical Reform and swarm on the whole population, fresh mutation
Add another box to the senses
Time moves endless, relentless
I send this, rhyme to the wind
I send this rhyme to the wind (to the wind)

[Verse 2: Memphis Reigns]

Yo, when the planets and the moon shift, my cocoon rips
Exist in a chrysalis state until I'm hitting the bass, pace rage
With no oppressionist, no depression
Until I get to breath in and breathing the stress that's sweetened
And multiplied and divided in my system
I'm trying to hide the tension but it's no use, fuck a death noose
Let the world choke thick on the smoke of my actions
Walk my path blasting words, slugs
And pubs of backs of beats snapping
Kick snare the rip tear, the space on the planet
For ME goddamnit
I never planned it, womb injection
Stand tall now in reflection
Quick stone throw from perception
Second guessing origination
Men so vein in this nation
Rather be vagrant
No time to whine when I dine on a finer platter
Than half the earth's matter
Brain splatter, head open for analysis
Acknowledging the callousness
Pass me the scalpel quick and I split this mind open myself
Who better to perform the procedure

Thick in meter, una viva, I know what you do
Master of my own destiny, fuck the voodoo
